Dear George:

The company has completed negotiations with the Special Aircraft Project Office, Hq. AMC, the cognizant office for our single largest military contract which currently absorbs 63% of the company's overhead applicable to military contracts, for the inclusion of a General Research Clause which reads substantially as follows:

Part First - It is understood and mutually agreed between the government and the company that the cost of company sponsored General Research projects will be recognized as a part of General and Administrative expense under this contract and will be reimbursed on an allocable basis when approved by the Contracting Officer.

Part Second - In consideration of the allowability of these costs, the company agrees that any invention developed under any such General Research project, the cost of which is borne wholly or in part by the government, shall be considered to be a "subject invention" within the meaning of the Patent Rights Clause of this contract. Any amounts received from any commercial exploitation of such invention shall not be credited in whole or in part to the government through overhead or otherwise.

Part Third - Notwithstanding the foregoing, it is agreed that this Supplemental Agreement provides for no increase in the dollar amount allotted under the contract for costs or fixed fee.

For the overhead period ending 31 December 1955, the total sum of money for General Research which will be distributed to contracts other than the largest military contract, which is being administered by the AMC Special Aircraft Project Office, will not exceed $ 18,000.00. Accordingly, the amount distributed to your contract for this period should not exceed [redacted]

25X1A

For the overhead period ending 31 December 1956, the company estimates that the total General Research cost should not exceed the sum of $ 200,000.00; and Contract A-101 participation in the G and A pool for 1956 should not exceed [redacted]

25X1A

We are requesting, through the Air Force Resident Administrative Contract Officer, to each procuring Contract Officer under our present contracts, approval for the inclusion of the General Research Clause in the current contracts. The Resident Air Force Administrative Contract Officer is recommending the inclusion of such a clause to the respective Contract Officers. Such approval is necessary in order to distribute the General Research costs from the military overhead pool. Since we are attempting to complete negotiation and approval on all our 1955 overhead claims, we would appreciate your prompt consideration of the inclusion of the Research Clause in Contract A-101.

Sincerely,

Burt
